

BOILER SERVICE / REPAIR ENGINEER

Job – Boiler Service / Repair Engineer

Salary - Negotiable depending on skill set and experience

Job Type - Full Time

At Celsius Plumbing and Heating, we do things differently! We are one of Edinburgh's larger domestic Heating and Plumbing Companies. As an award-winning business, we expect high levels of customer service.

Due to our expansion and development, we currently have vacancies for fully qualified Domestic Boiler Service / Repair Engineers, to work in the certification and maintenance side of the business. The candidates must equally be comfortable enough to work on basic general plumbing and heating maintenance tasks.

All engineers must have an excellent understanding of heating installations. Having drive, motivation and a want for the company to do well is essential. There can be times when engineers are expected to work on until the jobs are complete.

We are team focused, so there are expectations from all members to help each other out from time to time.
